HEIGES SUED FOR DAMAGES IN FATAL CRASH

The Gettysburg National Bank, as administrator of the estate of John G. Miller, late of Gettysburg, Pa., today brought suit in Adams County court against Harold E. Heiges, Buford Ave., for damages to a truck owned by the Miller Trucking Co. in an accident December 22, 1955.

According to the complaint filed for the bank by Attorney John A. MacPhail of the law firm of Brown, Swope and MacPhail, the bank, as administrator of the John G. Miller estate, was operating the Miller Trucking Co. at the time Heiges' car and a truck tractor owned by the Miller Co. collided in a fatal accident along the Lincoln Highway one mile east of here.

Lost $200 Per Week

The complaint alleges that as a result of the impact of the car with the truck, which was being towed by another truck at the time in an attempt to get it started, repairs were needed costing $1,549. A new frame, rear axle housing and transmission case were required to renovate the vehicle, according to the complaint.

The bank, as executor of the estate, is asking $250 of the $1,549 repair bill from Heiges and in addition is seeking $1,333.32 which it claims it lost by not being able to use the truck during the six weeks and four days needed to repair it. The complaint states the loss for inability to use the truck is estimated at $200 per week.

In addition $7.80 is sought as cost of telephone calls in connection with the repairs.

The complaint is signed by George T. Raffensperger as trust officer of the bank.

OLD-FASHIONED AIR SHOW TO BE GIVEN HERE

Members of the OX-5 Club of Pennsylvania, aided by members of similar groups from other states, plan to give Gettysburgians a glimpse back into the past of aviation September 6.

James E. Schwenk, Baltimore St., special events chairman for the Pennsylvania group of flyers who in their early careers flew planes powered with the OX-5 engine, said today that the group is planning a "fly-in and winging" here the first Saturday in September and, according to present plans, there will be at least 11 of the old time planes flying into the local airport for the event.

Present plans also call for some old fashioned aerobatics as part of the program.

Engine 42 Years Old
Ernie Buehl, the "Flying Dutchman" of Philadelphia, is planning to "show what 134 years of flying experience can do" in the line of aerial aerobatics in an OX-5 Challenger. Buehl claims 134 years of flying experience in that he is 61, his plane is 31 years old and the OX-5 engine that powers it is 42 years old.

Also anticipated for the event is a 1909 Blériot, the oldest airplane still flying which is scheduled to arrive from Texas. Present plans are to bring the plane near here by trailer and then fly into the local airport.

If possible a balloon ascension will also be on the schedule for the event, with the group planning to recreate as far as possible an air meet of 30 or more years ago. In addition to the ancient aircraft, some of the most modern craft will also be on display during the "fly-in," Schwenk said.

Wrong Way Destroyer

MELBOURNE (AP) — The Australian navy's pride, the new submarine destroyer Vendetta, started on speed trials today—and went the wrong way.

Instead of backing away from her berth, the 3,700-ton destroyer shot forward by mistake.

She ripped through the heavy steel gates of a drydock, tore a 20-foot gap along her port side and a 25-foot gash to starboard, flooded the drydock with the destroyer Quickmatch in it, and gave the Australian navy a very red face.

Baghdad Coup Was Engineered Like Scenes In Movie Script

By WARREN ROGER JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — It took seven hours last Monday for the Baghdad rebels to seize and secure power over Iraq. And then, for the rest of the day, the mobs took over.

That was the picture of the Middle East's fateful July 14, as shown in a chronology based on the best available publishable information here. Officials informed on the situation assembled the situation assembled the pieces, some admittedly sketchy, this way:

Baghdad was sleeping. It was 5 a.m. and the first faint rays of another sun were just beginning to appear. Swiftly and silently, Brig. Gen. Abdul Karim el-Kassem led his 20th Brigade into the unsuspecting city.

Like Movie Script
Whispered orders. Detachments dropped off at the railroad, at the bridges, at the telegraph office, at main street junctions, at the post office, at Baghdad radio. Quietly, efficiently, the troops took over without firing their rifles and machine guns.

State Police are continuing interrogation of Totem Pole players in their efforts to solve the theft early Sunday morning of $517 in cash plus several hundred dollars in checks from William Putsch, director of the summer playhouse.

A group of actors is being interviewed daily, according to State Police at Chambersburg, and will continue until each of the large cast which appeared in "No Time For Sergeants," has been questioned.

A money bag holding the cash and checks disappeared from a leather toilet kit belonging to William H. Putsch, playhouse director, as he prepared to transfer the funds to Chambersburg for deposit.

SAINT JOSEPH SETS WORKSHOP FOR SCIENTISTS

With "Science in an ever changing world" as the theme, the Division of Science and Mathematics of St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, will hold a six-day in-service workshop there from August 5 to 11, 1958. It was announced by Sister Hilda Gleason, president, today.

"This is the first time for such an elaborate and intensified workshop program in this area of study at St. Joseph's," Sister Hilda said, "but the needs are so demanding that to keep pace with the new and changing scientific achievements taking place around us every day this becomes a necessity."

The sessions will include a wide range of specialized fields in this area of education—from the latest electronic developments to air and space age education.

Three-Fold Purpose

There is a three-fold purpose behind this program, it was out. First, to keep in-service teachers abreast of the many and rapid advances in scientific fields. Second, to intensify the comprehension of basic scientific principles underlying space travel, atomic energy and similar scientific issues, and thirdly, to have these teachers share experiences and knowledge gained through special courses offered to other in-service teachers.

The sessions have been organized by Sister Denise Eby of the Daughters of Charity, and director of the science and mathematics department of the college, with the cooperation of such leading industrial organizations as General Dynamics Corporation, General Electric Company, the Martin Company, and the education and research sections of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company. ARMY RESERVE PROGRAM OPEN TO YOUNG MEN

Men between the ages of 17 and 18½ who will be high school seniors during the coming school term may now enlist in the U. S. Army Reserve as a member of Company A of the 313th Infantry Regiment, Gettysburg's local reserve unit.

The announcement was made today by 2nd Lt. William E. Troxell, commander of the local unit. Troxell said the information concerning the expansion of the enlistment program had just been received from higher headquarters.

Previously enlistments had been limited to men with prior military service or those with an Army Reserve obligation. Company A, which returned from two weeks of active duty training at Indian-town Gap Military Reservation on July 5, has been declared the best company in the 313th Infantry Regiment. The unit's drill team and a number of its members received awards and commendations during summer camp.

Program Terms
Men who enlist under the terms of the enlarged enlistment program will serve for only six months on active duty and fulfill the remainder of their military service obligation by attending regularly scheduled drills of Company A here in Gettysburg.

The high school seniors will be able to complete their senior year and will not be called to six months of active duty before July, 1959, Lt. Troxell said.

Troxell also noted that men considering enlistment under the expanded enlistment program should not delay in making application as enlistments may be closed at any time. Troxell said he could not obtain the time when enlistments may be closed by higher headquarters.

Men contemplating enlistment should visit the local unit at 39 Queen St. any Tuesday evening between 7:45 and 10 o'clock.

BARTLETT URGES CARE FOR BIKES

The importance of bicycle maintenance, safety and upkeep was stressed today by Gettysburg Police Chief Jack Bartlett, who urged all young riders to have their cycles carefully checked during the school vacation period.

Bartlett said riding among school-age boys and girls increases during the summer, and urged them to have their cycles thoroughly checked before attempting bike hikes, picnics or riding in Gettysburg traffic.

He noted that cycling was an ideal group activity and suggested use of the Gettysburg High School parking lots for off street activities.

Use School Lot
The Keefeauver Elementary School lot will make an excellent area for either speed racing or group games without danger from either vehicular or pedestrian traffic," the chief said.

He added the Bicycle Institute of America, a nonprofit organization, has urged the setting aside of certain areas in each community for the exclusive use of bike riders.

Bike riders should use common sense and care in riding in traffic, it was pointed out. Conventional hand signals should be used for turns or stopping and traffic signals should be obeyed. Before children use cycles in traffic, they should make sure their horns, lights and brakes are in the best operating condition. If brakes need adjustment, they should be checked by a competent person.

Firemen Respond To Two Local Alarms

Lloyd Resumes U.S. Talks; New Iraq Regime May Stay

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd resumed his momentous U.S. talks today amid increasing indications the West may have to learn to live with the new revolutionary regime in Iraq.

Lloyd, accompanied by a coterie of aids, arrived at the State Department promptly for a 10:30 a.m. session with Secretary Dulles. Earlier Dulles attended a Cabinet meeting at the White House, at which he reviewed the tense Middle East situation.

Lloyd was whisked across the Atlantic and into 7½ hours of huddles with President Eisenhower and Dulles Thursday.

"Identity of Views"
It was one of the longest such consultations in recent years, emphasizing the gravity of the Middle East situation.

The White House said "a close identity of views" was achieved. But at the same time officials were reporting waning prospects for that, barring some unforeseen development, the pro-Nasser rebels who seized power in Iraq last Monday could be driven out.

UAR Claims U.S. Threat If Marines Are Attacked

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Arab Republic said today the United States had threatened it with direct action if U.S. Marines in Lebanon are attacked by troops under U.A.R. control.

Ambassador Omar Loutfi, the U.A.R. delegate, said the threat was made earlier this week by U.S. Ambassador Raymond Hare in Cairo. He said Hare had declared the Marines would reply if they are attacked.

Loutfi spoke as the U.N. Security Council neared a vote on a series of proposals for action in the Middle East crisis. Just as a vote appeared imminent, the Council adjourned until 3:30 p.m.

Three resolutions to deal with the crisis seemed headed for oblivion in the day's Council session. Indications were that once the 11-nation Council had failed to agree on any action, either the United States or the Soviet Union would ask for a special session and the 81-nation Assembly would meet in a few days.

Get $70,000 In Holdup At Bank

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three men garbed alike in tan coveralls and stocking masks forced the manager of an East Side branch bank to clean out a reserve vault shortly before the bank's opening time today. The loot was estimated at $70,000.

Two women tellers, coming into the bank together, saw one of the men standing guard at the door. Letting out simultaneous screams, they ran next door to a grocery, where the manager called police.

But the robbers, armed with pistols, fled in a bank official's car which was found abandoned a half hour later.

The scene of the robbery was a branch of the Society for Savings Bank at 14701 St. Clair Ave.

Posts $7,500 Bail In Stabbing Case

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — David F. Boyce Jr., 28, is free today in $7,500 bail in connection with the fatal stabbing of William E. Mossau, 30, after an argument over wives.

Judge David E. Groshens of Montgomery County Court released Boyce Thursday. The Philadelphia man had been in custody since Sunday when Mossau was stabbed.

Mrs. Evelyn Boyce, 27, who divorced the released man a month ago, showed up Wednesday night at a viewing of Mossau's body. She was with the dead man's parents, Gottlieb and Wilhelmina Mossau, Mossau's wife, Thelma, 30, did not attend.

Police say Boyce had been seeing a lot of Mrs. Mossau. They said Mossau had been keeping company with Mrs. Boyce.

82 Attend Annual Employees Outing

Eighty-two persons attended the annual county house employees and county officials picnic at the former OCC Camp, W. Confederate Ave., Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. The county commissioners sponsored this year's event and the committee included Crosby Hartzell, Clark Spence, Ray Snyder, Aurelia Spence and Nancy Ellidge.

Duane Duncan, assistant county agent, and Ruth Gordon, summer assistant in the extension office, led the group in activities which included volleyball, horseshoe pitching, balloon contests and a scavenger hunt and a quiz program.

The main course included hamburgers, hot dogs, potato salad and baked beans.

Helm Defends '57 Session's Record

HARRISBURG (AP) — "All Republican legislators and many of our Democratic colleagues are proud of the efficient, productive 1957 session," said Rep. W. Stuart Helm, speaker of the House.

The Armstrong County Republican made the statement in rebuttal of a "do-nothing, spend-nothing" tag pinned on the 1957 Legislature by Gov. Leader in a speech at a Democratic strategy seminar here. Helm accused Leader of distorting the truth.

"Allow me to point out that hundreds of good bills were passed which you signed into law," he wrote in a letter to the governor Thursday. "Most of them received support from your own party in both the House and Senate."

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) —

Four fighter planes were sent to this city in western Austria today after the government protested U.S. transports were violating Austrian neutrality by flying over the area en route to the Middle East.

PROBERS WON'T RECALL ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators, finished with questioning of Bernard Goldfine, indicated today they see no need to recall Sherman Adams to the witness stand.

Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.), a senior Democrat on the special subcommittee, said he didn't think Adams should be summoned back unless a study of his testimony shows major conflict with Goldfine's. He said the conflicts at this point appear to be minor.

Subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) ventured no predictions but indicated the group will stay in recess for a week or more before calling the next series of witnesses. These are expected to be officials of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The SEC is one of the federal agencies with which Goldfine, millionaire Boston textile manufacturer, had trouble and from which his friend Adams, President Eisenhower's No. 1 assistant, sought information.

Goldfine was finally dismissed Thursday after he denied anew that he got favored federal treatment through his friendship with Adams.

lines that went into Lebanon Tuesday and the British paratroops who landed in Jordan Thursday. The Council was expected to vote this down.

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev told the Council Thursday that if it was "paralyzed in its action" on his proposal, he would ask for an emergency special Assembly session.

The United States was sponsoring a resolution that would send a U.N. force to Lebanon to take over from the Marines as a backstop for President Camille Chamoun's government. Chamoun charges President Nasser's United Arab Republic is aiding the rebel forces seeking to oust him.

Veto Expected

Sobolev was expected to veto the U.S. resolution. U.S. sources said that the United States then would like to have its resolution taken up in the Assembly.

Swedish Delegate Gunnar V. Jarring introduced the third pending resolution. It would suspend until further notice the activities of U.N. observers the Council sent to Lebanon June 11 to insure against aid to the rebels from the U.A.R. Jarring argued that the U.S. landing had made the presence of the observers "from a tactical point of view superfluous and from a political point of view undesirable." His resolution was expected to get only two votes — his and Sobolev's.

Lloyd Resumes

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said he had checked the report and was prepared to deny that such an agreement was reached.

The report, carried in the New York Times and attributed to diplomatic informants, said Eisenhower, Lloyd and Dulles had decided to limit their intervention in the Middle East for the present to Lebanon and Jordan. Hagerty's denial did not extend specifically to that portion of the report.

It was Hagerty who reported that Dulles gave the Cabinet a complete review of the Middle Eastern situation up to this moment.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, also attended the Cabinet session but did not talk.

Moderate Gains In Fairly Active Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Gains by industrials kept the stock market ahead moderately in fairly active trading early this afternoon. Leading stocks were ahead from fractions to about a point.

Oils, steels and aircrafts did well. Their best early gains were clipped sharply, however.

Some of the heaviest trading of the year occurred in the first half hour when the ticker tape fell behind for 18 minutes. The pace slackened and prices drifted below their highs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders pushed for passage of the reciprocal trade extension bill today. But first they expected to knock out a key provision curbing President Eisenhower's powers.

The chances of getting a final vote by tonight appeared to rest largely with Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev.), a longtime foe of the trade program.

Malone was ready with a speech which some senators said they understood might run many hours.

NIKITA, NASSER ON GOOD TERMS

By ANTOINE YARED

CAIRO (AP) — The Cairo government today reported an atmosphere of amity and understanding in a Moscow meeting between President Nasser and Premier Khrushchev of the Soviet Union.

"A meeting took place Thursday in Moscow between President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Premier Nikita Khrushchev of the U.S.S.R.," said a terse statement from the President's office.

"The two leaders exchanged views on development of the present international situation and what is needed for the preservation of peace. An atmosphere of amity and understanding prevailed during the meeting."

Came As Surprise

The meeting of Khrushchev and the President of the United Arab Republic came as a surprise here. Nasser had been reported sailing home aboard his yacht Alhoriya after a 12-day visit to Yugoslavia. He left Brioni Monday, the day pro-Nasser elements seized power in Iraq.

Egyptian papers said Nasser is due in Alexandria Saturday. The Middle East News Agency said Nasser arrived today in Damascus, capital of the U.A.R. province of Syria.

The news caught Yugoslavia by surprise, reports from Belgrade said. Informants there said Nasser gave no inkling of plans to see Khrushchev, and in fact created the impression of getting cooler toward the Soviet Union.

Nasser's visit to Yugoslavia was generally interpreted as a show of independence from the Kremlin bloc, which has denounced Tito as a traitor to communism.

Yugoslavia supports Nasser in the present crisis. Regardless of Soviet policies, Yugoslavia hurried to recognize the new regime in Iraq, but made it clear that it was not done to please the Soviets.

In London, the Evening News speculated that Nasser "possibly asked, or received, offers of help from Russia in stabilizing the position of the new Iraqi republic."

The Soviet Union has recognized the rebel regime in Baghdad.

SEIZE BANK IN NEW JERSEY IN PROBE OF BELLE

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—A small bank has been seized by the New Jersey banking commissioner who says that $150,000 in allegedly forged notes had been issued to companies headed by Pittsburgh financier Earl Belle.

Commissioner Charles R. Howell said he closed the Manufacturers Bank of Edgewater Thursday to protect its deposits. He said the bank has 10 days in which to file an appeal.

Belle, 26, once described as a "boy wonder" financier, left the country for Brazil early this month, shortly before several separate investigations were launched into his business dealings.

Deny Signing Notes
Also in Rio de Janeiro is Mitchell Ostwind, who had joined Belle's vast interests several months ago.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. said two of the allegedly forged notes, worth $25,000 each, were backed by stock in Cornucopia Gold Mines Ltd., headed by Belle.

A PDIC spokesman said eight other notes, unsecured and for $12,500 each, were issued to eight subsidiaries of Belle's Eastern Improvement Development Corp. However, Howell said the eight firms denied signing the notes.

Howell said Ostwind owned controlling interest in the Edgewater bank until June when control shifted to Eugene Boffa of Jersey City, president of the bank.

TO INSTALL RADIO
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission will open bids July 31 on two-way short-wave radios for 211 maintenance vehicles.

H. George Yeager, maintenance superintendent, said the additional equipment will give better control of maintenance vehicles in emergencies, particularly during snow removal operations.

"SWEET DREAM SILHOUETTE"

Often in the still of evening . . . sweet dreams form a silhouette . . . of young lovers gaily dancing . . . to a tune hard to forget . . . here upon my wall they frolic . . . swaying gently to and fro . . . bringing back the happy moments . . . buried in the long ago . . . they cavort like phantom shadows . . . then embrace and steal a kiss . . . oh dream silhouette, you haunt me . . . how I yearn to dance beside you . . . why is it you glide away . . . leaving me to drift alone now . . . searching for a yesterday . . . if you would but linger longer . . . perhaps then my heart would see . . . more than just an apparition . . . of a hazy used-to-be . . . now the evening shadows lengthen . . . sweet dream silhouette, dance on . . . for you will be just a memory . . . with the coming of the dawn.

Many Members In Area

Schwenk was asked to set up the etchings event at a meeting June 27 of the Ox-5 Club of Pennsylvania at the Valley Forge Airport, Audubon, Pa. At that session the members promised even more old planes for the Gettysburg fly-in than the nine that were present for the "grand banquet" at Valley Forge. At Valley Forge one of the displays included two Ox-5 engine planes, a modern plane, a helicopter and a balloon.

Many of those planning to attend the local session are former airmail pilots, including Schwenk who flew an Ox-5 powered mail plane in the Pittsburgh area.

Among Ox-5 Club members in the county are Robert Shaffer, McSherrytown; M. S. Kleinfelter, E. Broadway; Parker Cunningham, manager of WGET, and Schwenk. Others in the area include Thomas Gingell, Emmitsburg; Ray Devenor, Hanover, and Oscar Hostetter, York.

Invite Rickenbacker

Schwenk said that among those planning to fly-in are owners of a World War I Fokker and a World War I Neuport, and that the owners anticipate having their planes here.

The three-year-old Ox-5 Club of America began in Pennsylvania three years ago when a group of old time fliers met at Latrobe. At the present time it has clubs in every state and a membership of more than 5,000 including General Jimmy Doolittle, Roscoe Turner, Ruth Engels, Viola Gentry, who was the first woman to fly the Pacific; Ruth Nichols, head of the Power Puff Air Derby; Jimmy Mattern, the first round-the-world flyer, and such personalities as Arthur Godfrey, Gene Autry and Cecil B. DeMille.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, World War I ace, is one of the few old timers ineligible to membership. Schwenk noted. Schwenk invited Rickenbacker to join but found that he never flew a plane with an Ox-5 engine.

Dicky Doo And Don'ts At Hershey Tonight

Dicky Doo and the Don'ts, whose popular best-selling recording of "Click Clack" written by themselves, catapulted them to stardom, head the list of top record stars appearing at the summer dance party at the Hershey Park Starlight Ballroom tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Dicky Doo and Jerry Grant, another member of the quintet, are also widely known as a writing team. Among their hit compositions are "Party Doll," "Hoola Love," "I'm Slickin' With You" and "Rock Your Little Baby to Sleep."

The Kalin Twins, another of the stars, are remembered for their recordings of "Walkin' To School" and "Jumpin' Jack" both of which sold close to a million copies.

In addition, there will be personal appearances by Frankie Avalon and Jan and Arnie, plus dance music by Link Wray and His Ray Men.

Baghdad Coup

They were brought up short by the sight of their young King. The 23-year-old Faisal, a pistol strapped to his side, stood beside his 46-year-old uncle Abdul Ilah, crown prince and ex-regent. With them, rifles drawn, were two members of the palace guard. They were ordered to surrender.

Monarch Killed

Abdul Ilah, also armed, was disdained. He and Faisal had arisen early to fly to Ankara, Turkey, for a Baghdad Pact meeting. Faisal ordered his guards to shoot. The soldiers fired first and the guards fell dead. Abdul Ilah went for his pistol. Another fusillade and both he and Faisal crumpled to the floor.

The King was dead. But the prince might have been still alive. The mob surged forward, kept a respectful distance from the King but seized the prince.

Abdul Ilah, a meticulous man who liked pink shirts with gray pinstriped suits and hated crowds, was dragged through the streets of Baghdad behind a jeep. His body was hung on a building so all could see he was dead. The King's body was exhibited later, probably on a marble slab.

But the big prize got away. Premier Nuri Said, "the Old Fox," caught wind of the coup and fled to the suburbs. Angered, the military junta slapped a $28,000 price on his head. It was not until two days later that he was found, disguised as an old woman with a black scarf covering his face. He shot it out and fell dead. His body, too, was hung in display.

Nuri's reported lament to President Eisenhower in Washington last fall comes back now with prophetic irony. "I am a strong man," he told Eisenhower, "but I am 70 years old and there is no one to succeed me."

It was 8 a.m. Baghdad radio was pumping out news of the coup. Mobs demonstrated outside public buildings, the U.S. Embassy, the U.S. Information Library, the British Embassy. More army units were reported pledging support of the rebels — on the plains, in the mountains, outside Baghdad.

A fire broke out at the British Embassy. A British colonel was killed or manhandled. The rebels blamed the fire on the British. They said the British were trying to burn secret documents and the fire got out of hand.

By noon, things had simmered down. Soldiers were everywhere and Baghdad radio was still rolling out the word, with appeals for public cooperation. All of Nuri's Cabinet were either dead, in jail or hiding out. There was no organized resistance. The coup had succeeded, after weeks of secret hatching outside Iraq — reportedly in Jidda and Mecca, Saudi Arabia, and Bern, Switzerland.

The mobs, possibly joined now by Communist agitators, spent the afternoon venting their spleen against real or imagined ills suffered under the old regime. About 8 p.m. a mob laid siege to the new Baghdad Hotel, to root out royalists there. Two Americans were killed, probably because they just happened to get in the way.

LONDON (AP)—Roberta Cowell, the former fighter pilot and father of two children who changed into a woman six years ago, is broke.

Emerging from bankruptcy court after declaring debts of $33,600 and assets of only $5.60, she said Thursday night she plans to concentrate on flying, auto racing and playing the piano.

Miss Cowell said she has declined more than 400 proposals of marriage and a $2,800 offer to appear in a freak show.

LONDON (AP)—An undeclared truce between Greek and Turkish factions in Cyprus appeared shattering today.

Diplomatic sources said Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis and Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes were quietly intervening in an effort to end more than three years of civil strife in the crown colony.

ANOTHER GREAT CADILLAC TRADITION

If there is one quality which is instantly apparent in a new Cadillac—it is most certainly the car's great dignity. Cadillac's regal bearing, its impressive stature, and its majestic design give it a presence that is uniquely its own. It is a rare pleasure to command such a motor car—and we think you will agree, once you've taken the wheel for yourself. Why not do so soon?

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Local Preacher Is Ordained:
The Rev. Daniel L. Bergstresser, graduate of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary in the class of 1943 and a member of St. James Lutheran church here, was ordained to the gospel ministry at a special service conducted Wednesday evening in St. James church.

Participating in the service were the Rev. Dr. M. R. Hamsher, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod; Dr. J. D. Krout, secretary of the Synod, and the Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James.

The Rev. Mr. Bergstresser has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Zion Lutheran church at Renovo, Pa.

Last November 26 he and Miss Jean H. Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Thomas, York street, were married.

R. M. Spangler On Twp. School Board: Russell M. Spangler, new member of the board of school directors of Straban township, was elected to act as secretary of the board at a recent meeting. He replaces L. Guy Steiner, who moved out of the township.

The teachers in the township's nine schools were continued for another year at the schools in which they taught last fall and winter. The teachers and schools include: Marian M. Mihlmes, Fairview; Dorothy Dutera, Hunterstown; Zora M. Stambaugh, Woodside; Margaret B. Vanderwall, Pines; Ruth F. Ensminger, New Chester; Harry S. Bream, Morris; Elsie B. Wolf, Good Intent; Winifred I. Thompson, Round Top; and Gail R. Bell, Rocky Grove.

To Teach School in California: Miss Eleanor Hanawalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hanawalt, Gettysburg R. 3, will teach in the Bakersfield City school, California, starting in September, it has been announced.

Jacob Britcher Is Made Captain: Jacob Britcher, Baltimore street, has been promoted to captain, it has been learned here. Captain Britcher is in the supply division at Warner Robbins field, Macon, Georgia.

Whitson-Dunkelberger: The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Roy Dunkelberger, of Myersdale, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Jean Dunkelberger, to Lieut. Stanley Whitson, of Cumberland Md., now stationed with the Army Air Force at Monroe, Louisiana.

Weiser-Starry: Olive Louise Starry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Starry, York Springs R. D. and Mark Everett Weiser, son of Mrs. Ethel Weiser, York Springs, were united in marriage on Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

First Veteran Of This War Interred Here: The flag draped casket of Capt. George W. Strong, Pittsburgh was lowered into the first World War II grave in the National Cemetery here Wednesday afternoon.

Old Sidewalk Is Removed: One of Gettysburg's oldest landmarks, the brick walk in front of Christ Lutheran Church, is yielding to the wheels of progress.

Since 1836, a year after the church was established, a brick has lain in front of the church, although the present brick walk, removed Monday to be replaced by concrete, was laid in 1902.

When workmen removed the bricks they found many of them had been worn down nearly two inches by the footsteps of the thousands who have passed before the Chambersburg street church during the last 40 years.

YOUR OWN PHILOSOPHER
Whether we are conscious of it or not, we all live a certain philosophy which is individual to each one of us. We shape it as we will. It embodies courage, patience, kindness, faith in a Superior Being, and a belief that we will get all of the finest in life if we take things in their stride and make no complaint.

Our personal philosophy naturally must be made up from observation and unique experiences. There is very little that we can get from books although a certain amount is gained from mental absorption. Books once were men, so to some extent do we inherit from them. I am reminded of the visit of a former classmate of Dr. Samuel Johnson in college. Years later he visited the old doctor and this is what his friend and former school fellow told him to say: "Well, Dr. Johnson, you are a philosopher. I have tried too in my time to be a philosopher; but I don't know how. Cheerfulness was always breaking in."

Well, the best thing about a philosophy of your own is to create it and live it from day to day. It will take you over many a rough spot, and give you assurance and increased faith for use in any emergency. It will not allow you to be trapped by yesterday.

It will give you a richer spiritual vision reinforced by every good deed and effort on your part. The personality that you build will have its silence influence on a multitude of people, and thus contribute to your added good-deed joy!

Having a personal philosophy of one's own is something like being in a country with a constitution of its own.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Bedtime Prayer."

A glad vacationist am I.

To bask beneath the azure sky

I soon will pack my little grip
And go where life is trouble free;

And that's a bank account for me.

And found me broke and off in debt.

GIANTS BEAT PHILS IN 9TH AS BRAVES WIN

By Ed Wilks

Associated Press Sports Writer
The names are different and some of the finesse may be lacking, but San Francisco has revived those late-inning thrillers that were such a big hit for the Giants in '51 and '54, their last pennant years.

The Giants, hanging in there, half a game behind Milwaukee in the National League race, have won 16 games in the last inning. That's a third of their 47 victories.

On their current home stand, they've won 9 of 12, winning 6 by one run and 5 of those with ninth-inning rallies.

Cubs, Bucs Lose
They beat Philadelphia 8-7 with three in the ninth Thursday. Two came in on Orlando Cepeda's double, but the clincher came home on a bases-loaded wild pitch. Milwaukee stayed a wink ahead of the Giants by giving the skidding St. Louis Cardinals another shove, 8-7. Cincinnati side-tracked the third-place Chicago Cubs 3-2. Los Angeles hammered Pittsburgh 5-3.

The Giants, who stand 15-17 in one-run decisions, got rolling after the Phils broke a 5-5 tie with two runs in the ninth off reliever Don Johnson, called back to the majors from Toronto the night before. The Phils' ace reliever Dick Farrell, now 6-3, lost his second to the Giants with a couple of walks that Cepeda converted into runs, two more that loaded the bases and then an errant 1-2 pitch to pinch-hitter Hank Sauer.

Reds End Streak
The Braves won their fourth in a row despite Stan Musial's two home runs, which scored five and pushed him past Lou Gehrig into the No. 2 spot behind Babe Ruth in the all-time extra-base hit list. Del Crandall and Wes Covington homered for the Braves, who beat reliever Jim Brosnan (7-7) on Mel Roach's single in the seventh. Lew Burdette (9-7), working in relief, blanked the Cards on three hits for five innings.

The Redlegs, who had lost seven in a row in a plunge to seventh place, scored two on Frank Robinson's 11th homer, then got the winner on Roy McMillan's single, an error and an infield out. Joe Nuxhall (6-5) lasted through a 10-hit pitching job. Dave Hillman (2-1) lost it.

The Dodgers made it on homers by Gino Cimoli, Don Zimmer and

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitcher Bob Frederick of the Eastern League's Williamsport Grays is finding the form which helped him to a 10-9 record in 1957 when he pitched for the defunct Schenectady Club.

Frederick, who lost his first six decisions, hurled no hit ball for five innings as Williamsport edged the red hot Albany Senators 2-1. He allowed four hits over nine innings to win his second straight game.

The defeat slowed Albany's drive to lengthen its Northern Division lead. But the Senators, who finished last in the division's first half, held a three game edge today.

In other games, Springfield rocked Binghamton 10-2, Lancaster's

Gil Hodges that scored all but one of their runs. Rookie Stan Williams won his sixth, but needed relief help after Hank Poiles' homer ended his shutout string at 19 innings in the seventh and Bob Clemente belted a two-run homer in the eighth. Rookie George Witt (2-2) lost it.

Street. The first mention of the bakery in a local newspaper appeared in the Gettysburg Compiler on November 11, 1875:

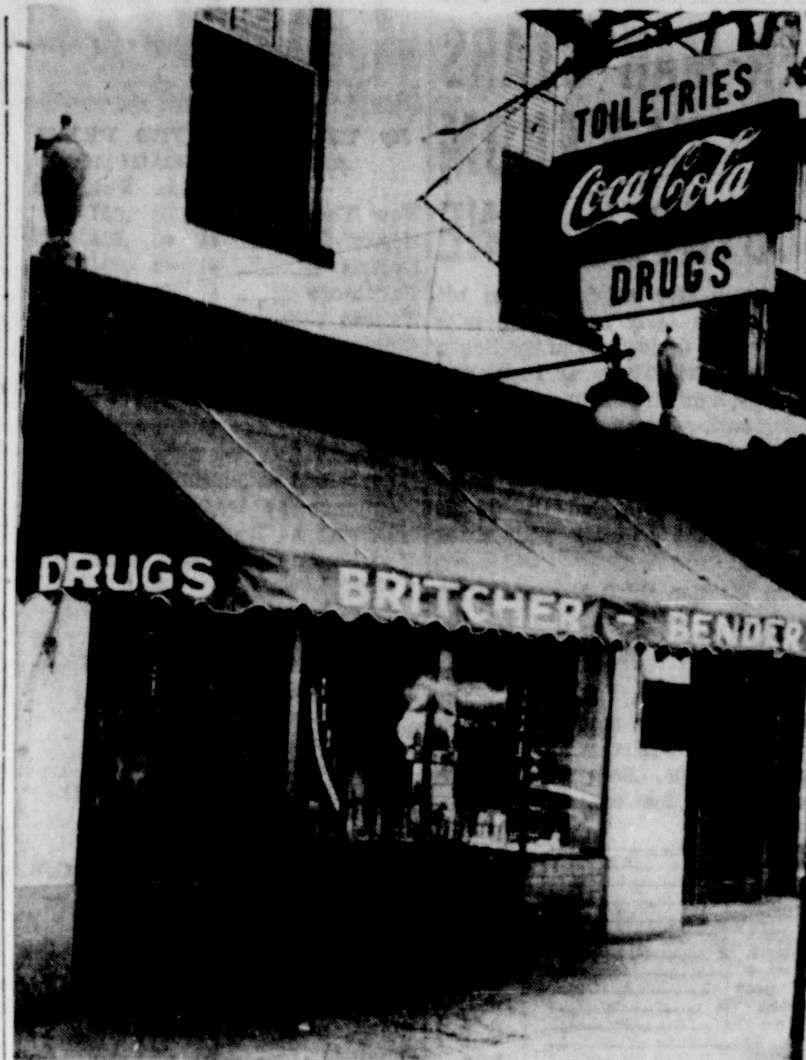

"Philip Hennig has opened a new bakery on York St., Gettysburg, Pa. (Chrismer's old stand), and will keep constantly on hand, bread, rolls, crackers, pretzels, etc., made of the best flour and warranted to give satisfaction in all cases. Families supplied regularly, and orders promptly attended to. Give me a call, as I hope by strict attention to business, to merit patronage."

Mr. Hennig's "hope" lives on today, for it has been through "strict attention to business" that the bakery has and still merits patronage.

A partial list of present day customers that the bakery has been serving for nearly 83 years includes: Hotel Gettysburg, Plaza Restaurant, Pader's, Rea & Derick Drug Store, Deluxe Restaurant, F & T Restaurant, Gettysburg College, the Avenue Diner (formerly Thompson's Restaurant), the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Annie M. Warner Hospital, and Gettysburg High School cafeteria.

A few years ago when the local business was celebrating its 75th anniversary, it published the following statement, which summarizes the story of its life, in The Gettysburg Times:

perience gained, the service rendered, over a period of years. It is indeed a long time since this business began operating in 1875. We are extremely proud that we have played our part willingly, cooperating in the growth of our community.

Bakery There In '63
A bakery had been located at the York Street location for many years before the late Philip F. Hennig started in business in 1875. The older bakery had been used during the battle of Gettysburg by both Union and Confederate forces to bake bread for the troops. Its earlier history is obscure.

Mr. Hennig was born in Gettysburg, but his parents came from Germany. They resided in a home which occupied the present site of St. Francis Xavier Catholic school. Mr. Hennig operated the bakery until 1908, when his son, the late William Andrew Hennig, took it over. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hennig moved to Washington, D. C., where they resided for several years before their deaths.

The son William Hennig, died in 1930, and his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Hennig, the former Elizabeth S. Yount of Washington, D. C., has operated the bakery since that time. Years Brought Changes
The bakery of 1958 and the bakery of 1875 are vastly different in many ways. Eighty-three years ago and for many years thereafter, the old swab oven was used. The fire was built in the oven, and it had to be cleaned out after it was hot, the ashes needing to be removed before the bread was placed in it. A new oven was installed in 1913.

There is another big difference—in former years there was no machinery. Bread was neither wrapped nor sliced in those days. Bread, rolls, and cookies were literally "hand made." The first machinery installed was a bread mixer, divider, molder, rounder, and more recently, an automatic roll machine. The bakery started to slice its bread about 1922. It was being wrapped a short time before Mr. Hennig died. Before he died, Mr. Hennig purchased the building next door, just west of the bakery, in 1925 from Miss Lizzie Houck. It had housed a millinery shop. The store for the bake shop was moved into this building.

No More Peddling
Another custom of many years which is no more in the local bakery business was the delivery of bread from door to door. The rationing of gasoline during World War II ended this practice, Mrs. Hennig says.

At first bread was "peddled" by horse and wagon. Then Mr. Hennig purchased an electric truck, in 1914. Robert Sheeds, now a local high school teacher, and James Moore, a taxi driver, took turns operating the vehicle. A parking place was wadded in the backyard of the bakery and George Burnner's father "rigged" a charger to keep the batteries up and the truck operating.

Prices have changed along with other changes in the business. The unwrapped and unsliced bread of earlier years after Mr. Hennig took over the bakery sold for eight cents a loaf or four loaves for 25 cents. The loaf weighed about a pound and a half. A smaller loaf sold for four cents. The cookies were the old-fashioned type of ginger and sugar.

Other Differences
There are other differences. In former days, several kinds of flour were purchased, and the baker had to have the "know how" to mix them in the right blends. Now flour is bought already blended. The bakery uses about four car-loads a year. Hennig's bakery still buys waxed paper from when it started. Rye, white and whole wheat bread is baked now, and sometimes other kinds, such as raisin bread, on special order. The bakery also makes cakes, including the wedding variety, and cookies and pies.

One of the many places that Hennig's Bakery products have proved very popular is at The Gettysburg Times Annual Cooking School. Hennig's products have been featured at the school since its beginning 30 years ago. This year, as has been its practice, the bakery will insert a loaf of bread in each of the 180 food baskets that will be awarded to lucky participants of the school.

Experienced Staff
"Our bakery isn't like an ordinary business," says Mrs. Hennig. "We're more like a family."

Fred Sanders, who is the baker and manages the business, has been with the Hennig Bakery for 29 years. David Bolen, assistant baker, has been employed there for 30 years. Miss Ella O'Hara has been in charge of the retail store for 40 years. John Wisotzky, who handles the delivery routes, has been employed about seven years.

Other employees of the bakery who work there part time are: Mrs. Anita Sanders, bake shop helper, Teddy Haller, route driver's helper, and Miss Mary Brumbaugh, retail store helper.

Owner Is D. C. Native
Mrs. Hennig, the owner, although a native of Washington, D. C., lived with her grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Sweney, in Gettysburg, and thus met Mr. Hennig. Two daughters of Philip Hennig, first of the family to operate the bakery, are still living: Mrs. Heye Eilers, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Margaret Tate, Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Hennig is a charter member of the Soroptimist Club, and one of its past presidents. She is also a charter member and past matron of the Eastern Star, a member of the White Shrine, the Women's Civic Council and the YWCA. She was a member of the board of directors of the "Y" for two years. She has been a member of St. James Lutheran Church since her marriage.

"No Time For Sergeants" Is Coming Here

One of Broadway's most successful comedies, "No Time for Sergeants," comes to the screen after three hilarious years on the stage.

The laugh-crowded picture, which opens Wednesday and runs through Saturday at the Majestic Theatre, stars Andy Griffith in this story about the peace-time Air Force's hilariously unsuccessful attempt to indoctrinate a naive Georgia farm boy. Co-starring in the film are Myron McCormick, Nick Adams and Murray Hamilton.

Don Knotts, the popular comedian of the Steve Allen show, also has a key role in the picture.

"No Time for Sergeants" first delighted millions when it was published as a novel by MacHymn, an ex-Air Force lieutenant.

The play, written by Ira Levin and produced by Maurice Evans, opened in New York on October 20, 1955, with Griffith and McCormick heading the cast. The play was hailed as one of the funniest ever, and Griffith was widely acclaimed.

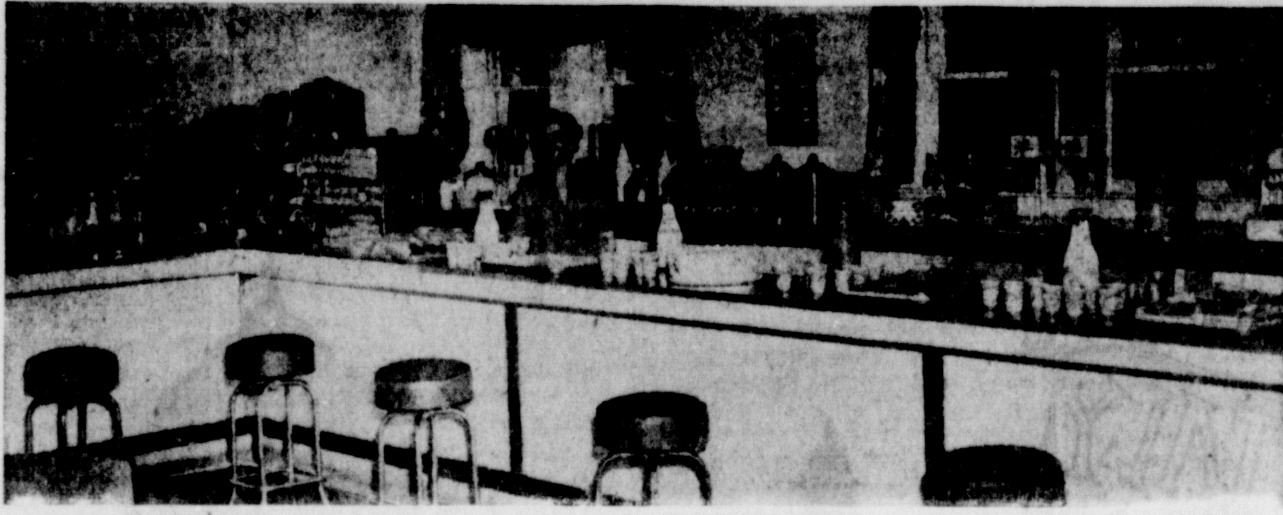

Andy Griffith was the popular choice to recreate on the screen the role of Will Stockdale, the naive draftee. A graduate of the University of North Carolina, Griffith was teaching music and speech at the high school in Goldsboro, North Carolina, until a few years ago.

McCormick Is Sergeant
Myron McCormick recreates his humorous characterization of the sorely tried Sergeant King. The actor, who also was in the New York production of the play, was previously known for his outstanding comic portrayal of the Seabee promoter, Luther Billis, in the stage version of "South Pacific." He has been seen on film theater screens in "Not As A Stranger" and "Three for the Show."

Nick Adams, who has reached leading role status in only two years, is cast as a small, scholarly young man with a burning desire to be an infantryman.

Another newcomer, Murray Hamilton, portrays Irvin, the bully with a bit of ROTC training. He is an alumnus of the Ensign Pulver role in "Mister Roberts" on Broadway.

Don Knotts also took a leave of absence from the New York company to play the manual dexterity corporal.

Mrs. E. M. Depuy, founder and proprietor of the Royale Dairy Company of Hanover, is shown in her Royale Dairy Store at 209 High St., Hanover. She and her late husband founded the business 30 years ago. Two sons and a son-in-law help her operate the steadily expanding dairy products business today.

Opened Boys' Shop On Hunch 6 Years Ago

Following a hunch in 1952 that there was a need in Gettysburg for a shop devoted to small boys' clothing, Gerald Bixler added in August of that year a limited selection of boys' items to his laundry and dry cleaning service.

From that small beginning, Jerry, as he is known by his many friends and customers, has built in six years a successful business offering a complete selection of boys' and men's wear.

Bix-Sway Men's and Boys' Shop is no ordinary clothing store in spite of its inconspicuous location at 24 Chambersburg Street. One outstanding feature is the wide selection of the latest fashions ready to give every boy, college "Joe" or business man that neat, well-dressed look.

But the most astounding feature of Bix-Sway Men's and Boys' Shop is Jerry's "hair-trigger" service. From the moment the bell's tinkle signals the visitor's entrance until the summer's heat once again engulfs him, the visitor has Jerry's complete and undivided attention.

This may also be true in other shops and stores, but the one quality that is readily apparent at Bix-Sway is that Jerry's emphasis is not on selling but on service — service without a price tag.

This writer personally knows of instances when, hours after closing time, Jerry has left the relaxation of his back yard or television set to open shop for a customer who needed some new clothes for a trip or clothes left with him for the laundry service he still maintains.

Service Before Sales
On other occasions this writer has heard Jerry announce to a customer that prices on certain items will be reduced within a certain number of days and suggest that he take advantage of the reduced price even though he was thinking of buying the item at that time. And Jerry's service is extended to include suggestions that will help the customer make his own choice even though the customer may not make a purchase. It is the service and not the sale that is uppermost at Bix-Sway.

These ways of being of service are only a few of those that Jerry offers. And although many have offered cash for these services once they were given, Jerry has refused. "I don't live that way," he says.

It was the first of June, 1952, that Jerry and his wife bought a laundry and dry cleaning business at the location of the present establishment. The business was very successful with routes extending into the surrounding communities of New Oxford, Fairfield, Biglerville, Orrtanna, Arendtsville and Bendersville.

Dry Cleaning Service
Jerry still maintains a laundry and dry cleaning service on a will-call basis having had to discontinue his route service in June 1956 when the success of his retail clothing business made it impossible to maintain the route. Steel's Laundry and Grove's Dry Cleaning, both of Hanover, presently call at Bix-Sway for business.

In August of Jerry's first year in business he started a small line of boys' clothing with a limited selection of colors, fabrics and patterns in slacks, shirts, socks, belts and a very light line of suits. By the spring of 1955 the demand for Jerry's services in the retail clothing business had grown to such an extent that he increased his line of merchandise to include a far wider selection of each item and added several new ones. These included sport coats, suits, ties, underclothing, pajamas, swim wear, and a complete line of winter outer garments.

Store Grew Too
As his business grew so did the size of his store. During the past six years it has been necessary to enlarge the customer floor space four times.

A year after he had expanded his offering of boys' clothing, the requests for men's clothing had increased to such an extent that it became necessary for Jerry to branch out into men's sizes. This he did by stocking in men's sizes everything that he carried for boys.

Although to some it may appear that Jerry has reached his limit of expansion, this is not true. He is continually extending his lines of merchandise, not by increasing the number of sizes offered as he already offers all available, but by stocking an ever increasing selection in colors, fabrics, patterns, and styling.

In mentioning a few of the items offered at Bix-Sway, one should include the selection of dacron wash-and-wear shirts, slacks, and suits. Shirts include those of button-down authentic and Ivy League styling, Oxford cloth, and checks, stripes and plaids.

Latest In Fashion
In season Jerry offers winter weight top and suburban coats, and spring and fall jackets.

Sweaters in the most wanted colors and styling are offered too. Other items one might wish for are bath robes, pajamas, underclothing, handkerchiefs, swim wear, belts, caps, hats, and jewelry.

So if it is the latest in fashion as well as that neat, well-dressed appearance you want, see Jerry. He makes his own alterations, too.

Before coming to Gettysburg, Jerry worked in the Hanover Shoe factory and later at the naval ordnance depot, York, while also working as a part-time clothing salesman. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Bixler, live in Hanover. His father is building contractor.

The Bixlers have five children: Barry, 15; Sharon, 13; Beverly, 11; Michael, 8; and Kim, 2. Mrs. Bixler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice C. Resh, Hanover R. D.

Cook thin crescents of celery in a small amount of lightly salted boiling water; drain and make a medium white sauce, using the cooking liquid from the celery for part of the milk. Reheat the drained celery in the sauce.

Claims Most "Beautiful" Golf Course

"Play miniature golf on the most beautiful 18-hole golf course in the East" invites the advertisement sponsored by Lew's Playland, opposite the Caledonia Drive-In Theater along Route 30. To prove the truth of this invitation one has only to drive to a beauty spot just east of Caledonia State Park.

L. J. Steinbaugh, better known as Lew to those who frequent his playland, is not only a veteran in the amusement park business and in the entertainment field, but he is also a great lover of flowers and all that makes for beauty.

This makes his miniature golf course one of the few, that includes beds of flowers. In this instance there are six flower beds with geraniums, petunias, marigold and tulips all within circles of uncut stone.

Built Tricky Course
But flower beds are not the only thing that makes his miniature golf course interesting. This course, designed and built by Lew himself from his original idea of what a miniature golf course should be, is constructed on two levels. "It is the only two-tier course I've seen," Lew states.

This golf course is a real challenge. Playing it is not just a matter of hitting the ball in the right general direction but is one where the player can use a little experience playing pool in order to get the ball around some of the turns Lew has built into the course. And if the player thinks he is good on "straight-in" shots, he ought to try a few rounds using the obstacles on Lew's course before doing any bragging.

A conspicuous sign at the entrance to the course states, "See Lew if your score is under 55." If you do score 55 or lower, and in doing so you have driven the ball through the obstacles Lew has placed for those of pro ability, you ARE good.

50-Machine Arcade
And that split-level playing — if you can drive the ball up the number five fairway and keep it near the cup, you are a far better player than the writer or his date. By the way, the ladies are admitted free on Monday evenings.

The miniature golf player will have to go far to find a more enjoyable evening than he can at Lew's Playland. Not only are there the flower beds for beauty and the two tier course for a challenge, but if you take the family or another group to Lew's, the 50-machine arcade offers a variety of amusement for those not interested in golf.

Most of the machines in the arcade are, however, of the latest design and include shuffle board, baseball, basketball and other games.

Lew takes pride in his playland, giving it fresh paint each year, constructing small wooden wheelbarrows for additional flowers, making sure the fairways are a proper green, and keeping out unsightly weeds.

Last year Lew had the fish pond at his playland stocked with 1,300 rainbow, brook and brown trout, none of them under 12 inches.

Zoo's New Python Just Won't Eat

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Zoo has a new — and very long — arrival from southwest Asia, where he made his living munching on deer, pigs, chickens and the like.
He is a young reticulated python, snake measuring 13½ feet. So far the python has not made himself at home.
"We are having trouble feeding him," said reptile director Frank Groven. He said the only solution has been to force-feed the snake once a week, not an easy task.

Faraway Places...

I've never seen the Taj Mahal. Nor have I looked up at the Leaning Tower of Pisa, or out across the broad Sahara to the Pyramids and the Sphinx.

Most of my life, as a matter of fact, has been spent right here in my own town. Not because I don't want to travel. To visit these faraway places is one of my big desires—and, one day, I hope to do it.

But I know, deep in my heart, that even if I never leave my home town I'll have more to do than I can hope to accomplish. Because God is just as much here as he is anywhere. Our minister used that thought in his sermon last Sunday, and he told us how much there is for all of us to do in our own particular place—and how much remains undone!

If we'd bring just one other person to church with us on Sunday, we'd really be doing something, he told us. And, as I thought it over, I knew how true that was.

That's why I'm asking you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

JUSTICE IN THE FAMILY

Ephesians 5:21-31; 6:1-4;
1 Timothy 5:8

Key Verse: Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interest of others. Philippians 2:4.

Parents set the religious tempo of the home. Whether the home and its occupants become thoroughly Christian in both their attitudes and actions depends largely on the example parents set. Children are quick to note relationships in the family, whether mother and father are truly concerned about one another and whether they actually practice what they teach.

Many injustices occur in the family circle because either the husband or wife, or maybe both, have forgotten God's Word in regard to their marriage vows. Maybe the marriage service should be reread by couples each year on their wedding anniversary! Marriage should be the union of mind, spirit, and body. The term "holy wedlock" can never be outdated because God Himself instituted marriage and family. Upon it rests the future of this and every nation. The breakdown of family life is a matter of great concern today.

In Ephesians Paul uses the figure of speech likening husbands to Christ who is the Head, and wives to the Church. "As the church is subject to Christ, so let wives also be subject in everything to their husbands." Husbands should love their wives. "For no man ever hates his own flesh, but nourishes and cherishes it, as Christ does the church." It is the duty of a Christian husband to love his wife and family, guard and provide for their maintenance, and do everything possible for their health, happiness, and spiritual growth.

Better Than Obedience

The spirit of Christ reflected in the love of a husband will make any submission on the part of a wife entirely natural, something more beautiful and compelling than mere obedience. In return for loving, sacrificial care children are expected to obey their parents in the Lord "for this is right." They will honor, love, and be obedient to the wishes of parents, grandparents, or those who are directly responsible for their guidance.

One admonition which appears in the text is "Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord." This involves self-control on the part of parents so that wrong attitudes are not developed in the children. The responsibility for moral and religious training of young children cannot be shifted to the Church school. It is the parents' duty and privilege to train children in good habits, give them the necessary protection against moral dangers, and to encourage them in Bible-reading, regular church attendance, and personal prayer.

The responsibilities involved require a great deal of time, patience, love, faith, and hope — qualities which not all parents are willing to give in proportion to the need. Baby sitters, teachers, and friends cannot supply these essential and basic principles for Christian living. But affection, understanding, and trust in Christ's Gospel of love will overcome difficulties which sometimes become "mole hills." Instead of "mountains," Teen-agers are in special need of proper guidance in this free and easy social age where all sorts of temptations come to them. Keep the doors of confidence open, so that they can feel free to advise with their parents without unjust criticism.

Last but not least is the matter of providing for parents or grandparents in old age or in sickness. This matter must be resolved in a Christian home with prayer and understanding because each case differs. The Church helps in most instances by providing old age homes where retired folks may find a happy, congenial home and people of their own particular denomination. Justice must always prevail in a truly Christian family.

Costa Rican Reds May Protest Eisenhower

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — The strongest Communist agitation so far awaited Dr. Milton Eisenhower today in Costa Rica on the third stop of his Central American fact-finding tour, but the Communists pledged no violence. Manuel Mora Valverde, head of the outlawed Communist party of Costa Rica, planned a radio speech tonight on Eisenhower's visit but disclaimed any intention to stage hostile demonstrations.

On his earlier stops in Panama and Honduras the special envoy met with verbal attacks on U.S. policies but nothing like the violence that greeted Vice President Nixon in Peru and Venezuela last May. Observers thought the Communists might be avoiding hostile demonstrations because the attacks on Nixon were widely denounced in Latin America.

HARRISBURG (AP) — George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, said it is time for Judge John Morgan Davis of Philadelphia, "to discontinue his political traffic or to resign from the bench."

Davis, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, has said he will resign about Aug. 15.

SAYS STATE IN NEED OF CRIME 'COMMISSION'

By BOB HOLTON

HARRISBURG (AP) — One of the State Justice Department's top investigators complained today about a lack of coordination in assembling information on criminal activities in Pennsylvania.

Victor H. Wright, a deputy attorney general and one of the department's leading crime sleuths, suggested some type of statewide crime commission might be the answer to the problem he claims exists.

"So far as I know, there is no one person or group who can give you the overall picture of crime and the activities of criminals in Pennsylvania," Wright told a news man.

Need Coordination
Wright offered the comment in answer to queries on whether he would favor establishing a statewide crime commission such as now are in existence in several other states.

"I don't want to be in a position to drive for a crime commission," he said, "but let's say I strongly feel that some coordination of intelligence is needed in Pennsylvania to give police personnel a better over-all picture of crime in the state."

It was Wright whom department officials credited with most of the spade work on the operations of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission which resulted in the indictment and conviction of officials and others in the commission on charges of a 19½ million dollar conspiracy.

Could Catch Trends
"We don't need a prosecuting agency because we already have that in the local district attorney's and the attorney general's office," Wright explained, adding:

"What we need is a central intelligence agency that can keep the crime activities and criminals under study at all times and be able to provide complete backgrounds on crime and criminals at any given time from a statewide standpoint."

"Then central agency could study new crime trends that begin to show up in one section of the state and warn other sections to be on the lookout."

Jobless Pay Fund Needs Bolstering

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Labor and Industry Department planned today to ask for standby powers to borrow money to bolster the dwindling unemployment compensation fund.

The plans were made after Attorney Gen. Thomas D. McBride ruled Thursday that prior legislative approval would be required to negotiate such a loan should it be needed.

William L. Batt Jr., secretary of labor and industry, disclosed that the funds as of June 30 was $67.5 million.

More than 312 million dollars has been paid out in unemployment compensation in the year ending June 30. A formula under federal law would allow the state to borrow 113 million dollars to build up the fund.

Fishing in the pond became a popular sport with the visitors to Playland. During the winter, however, most of the fish were stolen, Lew says, and so the fish pond is not being operated this year.

Lew says he is contemplating other uses for the pond and will make an announcement at a later date concerning its use.

Special Group Rates

For larger groups visiting Playland, Lew has special rates. He is also planning a miniature golf tournament in September. Details will be released later but those who score 55 or less on Lew's course qualify to enter the tournament.

A veteran in the entertainment field, Lew began his career as a violinist in his Philadelphia high school orchestra and later organized his own group. For 13 years he led the Atlantic City Sea Gulls, the first orchestra to play for dances held following pro basketball games.

Following high school, Lew attended the Wharton School of Finance and Accounting, University of Pennsylvania, but left before graduation for full time

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The USS Olympia, Adm. Dewey's flagship at the battle of Manila Bay 60 years ago, was slightly damaged by fire Thursday night.

Firemen said it took an hour to locate a blaze in an airtight compartment and it took another hour to cut through the armor plate so hose lines could be brought into the compartment.

The ship is at the Keystone Drydock and Shipbuilding yard where it is being reconditioned as a permanent shrine.

New Fire Truck In Service Soon

Pictured above is the new fire truck of the Alpha Fire Company No. 1, Littlestown, received the past weekend, which is being equipped this week and is expected to be placed in service about the first of next week.

The truck, body, by John Beam Company, Lansing, Mich., carries two pumps, one a high pressure pump with a capacity of 850 pounds of high pressure fog which works from the power take-off and is able to operate at full pressure with the truck in motion; the other a 750-gallon per minute centrifugal pump. The body also includes four large side compartments; one large tunnel compartment over the pump and one rear compartment. The hose bed has a capacity of 1,200 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose. There are two high pressure winterized reels. The truck carries 600 gallons of water and there is a rear outlet to carry 1 1/2-inch pre-connected line. It is possible to operate the high pressure pump and the volume pump both at the same time. The body is mounted on an International 190 Cabover with a V-8 engine and air brakes. The truck is being equipped with a 50-watt Motorola two-way radio.

Four members of the company, Fire Chief Glenn E. Ohler, Truck Foreman Dennis S. Wallick and Drivers Bernard G. Kebel and Levi Hull went to Lansing, Mich., to bring the truck to Littlestown. It will appear in the firemen's parade in the community on Friday, August 8, to be held as the highlight of the annual summer carnival, August 4 through 9. Receipts from the annual solicitation for funds in the community and vicinity, during the next two weeks, will be used to help pay for the new truck and equipment.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Bart's United Brethren Church will meet at the church on Saturday, 7:30 p.m. The arrangements are in charge of Mrs. A. W. Garvin and Mrs. Louis Karichuff.

Birth Delays Traffic As Cops Help Father

FATERNON, N.J. (AP)—Mrs. Jennie Fields, 28, gave birth to a girl in the front seat of her car plumb in the middle of a busy intersection Thursday night.

Her husband slammed on the brakes when she said her time had come.

Police halted all traffic, and four of them assisted at the birth. Cars were held up for more than half an hour.

Mother and daughter were later taken to Paterson General Hospital, where both were reported doing fine.

John L. Sullivan was heavyweight boxing champion from 1882 until 1892.
